3

ARCHAEOLOGY IN WALES

The Council for British Archaeology exists to advance the study and practice of archaeology in Great Britain and Northern Ireland; and in particular to promote the education of the public in British archaeology, and to conduct and publish the results of research. It also co-ord 3001, 300

CBA: Wales serves the whole of Wales and holds several meetings each year. The Annual General Meeting takes place in Shrewsbury in October, and a Spring meeting, normally in March, is held at various centres, usually at the invitation of local societies. On these occasions there is a business meeting in the morning, when issues of local and national archaeological concern are reported and discussed, and the afternoon is devoted to illustrated talks on recent excavations and other topics. Occasionally dayschools and field meetings are also held. Archaeology in Wales is produced annually and issued free to all members. Its contents include accounts of excavations, surveys and discoveries of field monuments and artefacts of all periods from prehistory to industrial. The journal is an invaluable source of information for anybody working in the field of Welsh archaeology or history.

BA: Wales officers, 1996-7

Chairman: Richard Brewer, National Museums & Galleries of Wales, Cathays Park, Cardiff CF1 3NP (01222

ice-Chairman: Dr Barry Burnham, Department of Archaeology, University of Wales, Lampeter, Ceredigion SA lfort siting and monumentality: Castell Henllys and geographical information systems Harold Mytum A contributions by Claire Gathercole and Helen Fenwick cavations at Cosmeston Medieval Village, near Penarth, South Glamorgan, 1993 Phil Andrews	1
cavations at the Bedford Ironworks, Cefn Cribwr, 1992-1994 A G Marvell, P F Wilkinson and D Williams 3	6
ditor: Dr Edith Evans, Glamorgan-Gwent Archaeological Trust, Ferryside Warehouse, Bath Lane, Swansea SA 1 IRD (01792 655208)	3
man 7	9 2
	03
	08
doscriptions are payable to C.S.A. wates and should be sent to the reasurer at the address above. The rates at	16
rchaeology in Wales - back numbers ack numbers of some issues are available from the Publications Secretary at the address above. Postage acking 50p per order, cash with order please. Vols 6, 18, 19, 21, 23, 24, 25, 27, 29, £2.00 each; Vols 30, 31, 43.00 each; Vols 34, 35, 55, 00 each; Vols 34, 35, 55, 00 each	16

CBA: Wales would like to acknowledge grants from Cadw and other contributors towards the cost of publishing some of the entries.

Edited by Edith Evans with assistance from Richard Brewer, Helen and Barry Burnham, Margaret Griffith, John R Kenvon and Bob Silvester.

Layout and cover design by Tony Daly. Printed by Cambrian Printers, Llanbadarn Road, Aberystwyth SY23 3TN