

ARCHAEOLOGY IN WALES

Volume 62, 2022

CONTENTS

Articles

- Early Chalcolithic and Early Bronze Age flat metal axe-heads from Gwynedd and Anglesey; recent discoveries and their archaeological significance 5
John Ll W Williams, Mark Lodwick and Roland Flook
- Burnt Mounds on Cefn Bryn Common, Gower 19
David Leighton
- Crawcwellt Bronze Age Burial and Settlement 25
Peter Crew
- Iron Age and Roman enclosures, and evidence for early medieval iron processing, at Plasdŵr, Radyr, Cardiff: excavations in 2019–20 41
Jonathan Hart, Andrew Pearson and Sian Reynish
- Possible Cistercian iron smelting at Cwmystwyth, Ceredigion: Archaeological investigations at Penparc 2020–22 59
*Phil Andrews, Simon Timberlake, Brenda Craddock, Anthony Gilmour, John Pickin
 Martin Roseveare, Ed Treasure and Norman Moles*
- Survey of the Cistercian Grange Centre, Mynachdy Moat 73
Julian Ravest
- Relics of Lowland Agriculture and Settlement in North Ceredigion 79
John Wiles
- A Note on the Archaeological Recording of Early Medieval Burials 89
Marion Shiner

Gazetteer of Sites Explored 2022

- Prehistory 93
- Roman 101
- Medieval 104
- Post medieval 109
- Industrial and recent 119
- Undated 122

Book Reviews

- From Hunter-Gatherers to Early Christians – The Archaeology of Ancient Societies in the Llŷn Peninsula. Julian Maxwell Heath. 124
Simon Timberlake
- Boom and Bust in Bronze Age Britain. The Great Orme Copper Mine and European Trade. R Alan Williams. 126
Kathy Laws

Recent Literature Relating to Wales

Evan Chapman 128

Obituary - David Arthur Jenkins (1938 -2023)

Simon Timberlake 132

Index

134

Notes for Contributors

139